May 10, 2019

Throughout the month of May, we recognize and give thanks to our country's service members, but today, we thank military spouses. Military Spouse Appreciation Day holds a special place in our hearts because we witness daily the bravery and resilience of the military spouse.

You experience the often and long periods of separation, relocate to new homes, maintain a home by yourself, and take on the role of both parents. As President Reagan said when he established this honorary day, "... they preserve the cornerstone of our Nation's strength – the American family."

The Navy League has the honor and privilege of working with military spouse every day. We salute you and want you to know how very much you are appreciated by us, and by your community.

Warmest aloha,

"Navy League Jane"

Jane Ferreira,
Executive Director
